JAMES A. LEE,

PROPRIETOR of that large and commodious establishment in Howard street, Baltimore, respectfully informs the citizens of the U States, at large, and those of the western country particularly; that his house is fitted up in a manner which will ensure to all those disposed to favor him with their patronage, the best accommodation in every respect. The reason why he addresses himself to those of the western country particularly, is that he has long lived in that portion of the union, and he flatters himself that he is remembered by many persons in that quarter.

Country merchants and persons travelling on business, who stop at his house, may always rely on the most accurate information relative to the state of the market and all mercantile proceedings.

The conveniencies of his establishment are numerous. he has near one hundred rooms neatly fitted up as chambers, where persons may be quite retired from noise and bustle—he has also some rooms elegantly furnished with large double beds, where gentlemen can be accommodated. As he considers a good clean bed one of the greatest luxuries, he has taken great pains to place in that department, maids who pay the strictest attention to the cleanliness of the sheets, and to have them well dried and aired.

[illegible] table is provided with a profusion of the best poultry, meats and vegetables, that the market affords, and active and attentive waiters who anticipate even the very wishes of his guests.

He regularly imports the Choicest Liquors.

His Madeira wine not only amateurs but connoiseurs, have pronounced the best they have ever tasted in this country, and he assures the public that it is not unfrequently the case, that he has to supply from his vaults, "London particular," to gentlemen who are determined to treat their friends with the best.

The stable attached to the establishment, he has no hesitation in pronouncing the best in the U. States—the hostlers are attentive and faithful, and have been brought up to the business—the best oats and hay selected, and none other than such as the proprietor inspects, is ever admitted into his granary

Of his establishment in general, he conceives he has spoken no more than will be fully justified on visiting his house

Mere words are often vain and weak,
Come try—it for itself shall speak.

Pledging himself to be alive to all the interests and conveniencies of his guests, he solicits the patronage of his fellow citizens.

SPECIE PAYMENTS.

The Baltimore Patriot of Feb. 8, states, that at the conference held the preceding week in Philadelphia, between the deputation of directors from the principal State Banks and the directors of the United States Bank, an arrangement was made and unanimously agreed to, to resume the payment of SPECIE on the 20th of February, instant. This information, says, the Patriot, we have from an official source, and is entirely to be relied on.

The bill to repeal the compensation law, and all laws on the same subject, from and after the end of the present session of Congress, passed the Senate on the 1st instant; and having passed both houses, now wants only the signature of the President to become a law.

MODERN ENTERPRIZE.

If in the course of the last twenty or thirty years, (says the Baltimore American) we have seen much folly and wickedness, we have also seen great virtue and talents displayed in almost every rank of life. A knowledge of the geography of the globe has been exceedingly improved in that time. The Great Ocean has been explored in every part, and there is now scarcely an island the size of St. Helena, that is not intimately known and described by intrepid Navigators.

This spirit of enterprize has surprisingly extended itself in our quarter of the world. A man of business may now travel from Baltimore to Quebeck, a distance of eight hundred miles, in about eight days —A jaunt of pleasure to the great falls of Niagara, and its now classic grounds, is quite a common thing. The regions beyond the Allegany moutains, but lately a desert of trees and bears and savages, have now become the abode of industry and civilization.—Every week, almost every day, persons leave this city, either on business or pleasure, to visit the banks of the Ohio, the Mississippi, or the Missouri. In short it is probable, that in less than ten years men of business will set out for St. Louis, (a place, from its situation that will soon be only second to New-Orleans in importance) and travel, by regular stages, the whole course of the Missouri, across the Stoney Mountains, and down the Columbia to the shore of the Great Western Ocean. What an astonishing prospect is here! A prospect not formed in imaginary ideas, but grounded on facts that are every day developing themselves to personal knowledge.

Nor is the noble spirit of enterprize dormant in Europe. It must be known to some of our readers, that about twenty-five or thirty years ago, the Hon. Mr. Phipps, in a voyage to Greenland, boldly penetrated to the 81st degree of North latitude, only 9 degrees from the Pole.—We are now told, that an English gentleman, a native of Whiteby, proposes to take a journey to the pole itself. He will sail as far as possible, then land on the icy continent, and travel the remainder, only about six hundred miles, in a sleigh or sledge, drawn by water dogs—His sleigh or trainaux, will be formed like a boat, or canoe, so that he can pass rivers with great ease, whilst his dogs can swim by his side.

There is, to be sure, something extremely adventurous in this scheme, but it is pleasant even to think of it, and every man must wish him success—All the great discoveries have been made by men of this stamp. The people of Europe thought Columbus, and Cook desperate adventurers yet their noble darings have changed, or will change before long, the whole system of European policy

For the Pittsburgh Gazette.

PUBLIC COMPENSATION.

This is a subject which has latterly been treated with an uncommon degree of critical investigation, both in publick and private bodies throughout the nation; and the additions which congress and our own legislature have made to their own wages alone, of course, and as might have been expected, became subjects of severe, but perhaps unguarded censure.

But it now appears, from the most ample and lucid investigation and discussion of that subject, which I think sufficient to remove the most obstinate opposition, that the measure of increased compensation was warranted by principles of reason, of justice, and sound policy.

If we take into consideration that all publick servants, of whatever name or grade, are in common with their fellow citizens, subject to all the grievances resulting from the depreciated state of our currency, and the enhanced prices of all the necessaries of life, indispensable for the support of themselves and their families; and [illegible]ther, if we consider the enormous, increased price of labour, both in agriculture and mechanics, and that publick men who are [illegible]lled to be long absent from their do- compe[illegible] probably subject to mestic concerns, a[illegible] labour- the wages and impositions of such [illegible]ers, it would seem but common justice, that their own wages for time and service rendered to the nation, should bear some proportion to that of the community at large.

Another consideration worthy of notice, is, that gentlemen who fill the more honorable grades of office, are always exposed to a degree of expence both at home and abroad, which appears inseparably attached to their rank and character; wherefore, both strangers and others, generally expect to be received with marks of politeness and hospitality.

If any censure can be attached to this increase of compensation, it is from that circumstance of confining their liberality to themselves alone, and not extending it to all other classes of publick servants, who suffer under grievances similar to their own. But there are two grades of office in particular, which ought to have commanded their attention,—that is, the Judges of the Supreme Court, and the Presidents of the Common Pleas; the latter in particular, some of whom are nearly one half of their time abroad, upon the duties of extensive circuits, and exposed to degrees of excessive expence and fatigue, unknown to any other class of the Judiciary. Whilst they can behold all the officers of the court receiving liberal wages and large additional fees; they must consider themselves as forlorn and forgotten, and obliged now to subsist as they can upon that poor, scanty stipend, which was allowed them in times of moderation and publick tranquility.

These gentlemen have generally been professional characters of high eminence, and when in practice, received from it a compensation far superior to their present salaries, which, in some instances, does not afford a genteel support for themselves and a numerous family. These brief thoughts are just hinted for the consideration of the Representatives of the enlightened, honorable and liberal State of Pennsylvania, with the view of suggesting to them the propriety and necessity of dispensing equal justice to all their publick servants.

I am well aware of what may be objected to these observations,—that no application was ever made by these gentlemen, or by any others on their behalf; but this silence ought rather to be considered as characteristick of their high sense of honorable feeling, upon such a delicate subject as their own interest alone. Those legislators who increased their own wages, did not wait to collect the sense or approbation of their constituents by petition or otherwise. It was an act of their own mere motion, dictated by their own feelings and their own necessities:—and the judiciary might as well have laid all delicacy aside, and stated their grievance to be at least equal, if not greater, than that of [illegible] legislature.

The writer of these remarks being totally disinterested and independent of any effect which they may produce, upon the government, declares, that they are made without the least knowledge of any member of the judiciary. They proceed solely from a wish to produce uniformity in publick compensation, and equal justice to all publick servants.

INDIAN NAMES.

Various treaties have lately been concluded at Washington with different tribes of Indians. Among other Indian signatures are the following, Buffaloe, Little Eyes, Negro Legs, Long Body, Big Man, Little Duck, Drunkard's Son, White Sky, Green Feather, Main Chance, Sturgeon Man, Jumping Sturgeon, Bad Axe, Young Eagle, Lion coming out of the water, Black Sparrow, the Cloud that don't stop, Bad Weather, Sharp-faced Bear, the Thunder that frightens, the Swan that flies in the rain, the Swan whose wings crack when he flies, he who shoots in the pine tops, the man who marches quick, the man with a strong voice, the man who is sick when he walks, he that walks with a cane, the Fluttering Eagle, the Bad Hail, the Shifting Shadow, White Nails, Turning Iron, White Wolf, Rumbling Thunder, the Dancer, the Big Tree, the Big-eared Dog, the Buffaloe with one horn, the iron Cloud, the white Face, the Negro, the Thief, the Belly ache, the Doctor.

A letter from a person on board our squadron in the Mediterranean, mentions, that a man belonging to the frigate Java was accused at Messina on board a British Merchant schooner of stealing some leather, and severely flogged by order of the mate—although the leather was g[illegible]n him by a man belonging to the schooner. That this treatment was retaliated on English seamen on shore.

A Deserter from the United States sloop of war Ontario, was afterwards taken out of [illegible] above schooner at sea. Her sailing being watched for that purpose.

Commodore Chauncey, while in Naples Bay reduced the number of his squadron there to five, to comply with the wishes of the king and an old rule as was stated.

Bost. Pat.

FROM THE NEW-YORK COURIER.

Andre's Captor.

Col. Tallmadge's attack on the character of the three American yeomen, who captured Maj. Andre, having been made known to one of them, Mr. Van Wart, he came down yesterday from West Chester county, to see me on the subject, and to take measures to rebut those charges, the object of which is to take from him and his companions, not only all claim of merit but to render them infamous, by representing them to have been Cowboys, in plain English, cattle stealers. He introduced himself by a letter from the Rev. Mr. Smith of Tarrytown. In this letter Mr. Smith expresses himself in these words—

"It is a truth as incontestible as the existence of the sun, that Issac Van Wart sustains as excellent a character, as any in the county of West Chester, and ever did, from his youth. And proof can be made by some hundreds of persons now living that neither Van Wart, Paulding nor Williams ever were in the British camp; and that they never were suspicious persons, but on the contrary were true supporters of the rights and liberties of their country. Upon this subject there is not a single observation made by Mr. Tallmadge, which points at the true characters of these men."

A gentleman who accompanied Mr. Van Wart, and on whom I can rely, assures me, that his character has been during his whole life entirely unimpeachable, in every respect, and that he is a strictly moral and religious man, having been for twenty years a member in communion with the church.

Mr. Van Wart intends to make a statement, upon oath, of all that took place, at the capture of Andre, and to support it, with such further corroborative proof, as shall leave no doubt on any man's mind.—In this I have promised him all the assistance in my power, and I hope to have every thing prepared for publication, in the course of a fortnight.

I was much pleased with Mr. Van Wart's personal appearance; it is respectable, and being advanced in years, even venerable.—His face is one of those in which honesty is written most legibly; and when he came to speak on the subject in his visit, it was "more in grief than in anger." He appeared solicitous only for the restoration of his fair fame, and that of his companions. His circumstances are easy and comfortable, as he owns a neat farm of about a hundred and fifty acres, which he cultivates with skill and industry. In politics he has been a uniform supporter of the principles of the Washington school, and has been to this day and is now a federalist, and I must confess, I could not but sympathize with him; when he learned that it was from a federalist that he had received the deep and enormous injury of which he complained.

ICE HOUSES.

And the Freezing of Water, Wine. Spirits &c.

One of the greatest luxuries, and preservers of health in this climate during the hot months of summer, is Ice. It is therefore with pleasure we observe that Ice Houses are multiplying in this, and indeed all the towns, and that there are few country gentleman without them. But the Air Pump constructed by professer Leslie of Edinburgh, for the freezing of water and other fluids, appears to us more convenient and cheaper for family purposes than an Ice House. We understand that this apparatus is sold in London for five guineas, sufficiently large for freezing a gallon of water in ten minutes. Mr. Leslie's apparatus has this superior advantage, that Ice can be formed of any liquid whatever, besides that the Ice which is formed from water by Mr. Leslie's Pump is much purer than that of the ordinary Ice House. At an entertainment given last summer in Bath, it is said that the Wine was handed ronnd, frozen in the shape of small bunches of grapes.——Petersburgh Intel.

Extract from a respectable house to a merchant in Baltimore, dated

NEW-ORLEANS, Dec, 26

"It is with pleasure I announce to you the news received by the Calypso, Capt. Boyle, from Galvestown. General Vitoria de Guadaloupe, with about 200 men, under his command, and within six leagues of Boquilla de Piedras, between Halappa and Pont el Rey, has gained a victory over the royalists, and taken, it is said, a million of dollars from them."—Pat

FROM FRANCE.

Cambaceres had returned from his tour thro' Holland. The process against General Grouchy had been referred to a second council of War. The exportation of all bread stuffs had been prohibited, and a bounty given on that imported. It was reported that Count Dillon was shot in a duel. The Chamber of Peers was soon to be lighted with gas Mr. Canning, on the 24th had a private audience of the King. Several persons found guilty of murder at Nimes, were to be executed. Numerous vessels had been lost on the coast of France in the last of November. The high price of corn at Toulouse had occasioned some riots, and the venders were obliged to reduce the price by the mob; the military, however, restored order, and the markets proceeded.

London, Nov. 20.

A letter from St. Helena, dated the 22d of September contains the following statement.—"A very curious circumstance occurred here a few days ago. Bonaparte in a rage, ordered his service of plate to be broken up, the eagles which were engraved to be effaced, and the whole to be disposed of as old silver. He thought that the amount would not exceed 3 or L 4,000 sterling. The Governor consented to the merchants going to look at the plate, but observed, that the amount should not be paid to Bonaparte but deposited in the hands of the Governor, or the purveyor. When the merchants went to look at the plate, instead of the sum above mentioned. the property was worth L 10,500 sterling—a sum rather too great to be procured here at so short a notice. However in a day or two it is expected that this curious negociation will be brought to a close. It is said, that Bonaparte wishes by these means to make himself independent of the British Government, and that in future he will never make any application for money, but live on his own resources. His suit receive theirs from Government,"

FROM WASHINGTON.

January 13—"Several motions have been made on the subject of the reduction of the Army. It appears by documents on our table, that the War Department the last year (a year of peace) cost the country nearly Fifteen Millions of dollars!! All nations are reducing their army establishments to the lowest possible point.—Wars, they know never come instantaneously—that there always is a time between the first breeze and the storm to maks preparations, and that in every country the Standing Army is the Levethian which swallows up the revenue of a country."

THE SUBSCRIBER Offers For Sale,

The following valuable property, viz.

36 ACRES of ground on Coal hill below the mouth of Sawmill run. From this ground there is a beautiful view of the city.

108 acres, three miles from Greensburgh. This is good land covered with timber, which on account of being so near town makes it more valuable than clear.

243 acres on the left bank of the Ohio river, sixteen miles down from the city. On this tract there is about fifty acres of bottom on the river, cleared and wrought by a tenant. The rest is timber land, nearly all capable of being cleared and wrought, and suitable for pasture ground.

200 acres of very rich unimproved land, within eight miles of Meadville.

An undivided fourth part of about seven hundred acres in the state of Kentucky. This is very valuable being the seat of the town of Greensburg; the county town of Green county, and situate on the bank of Green river; which is navigable from many miles above the town to the Ohio.

I will sell also a four years lease of a mill for driving grindstones. This is situated at the mouth of Sawmill run, one mile from town.

The title of the above property will be made indisputable.

Valuable Real Estate for Sale.

PURSUANT to the last Will and Testameny of the late Col. RICHARD BROWN, deceased.

I NOW OFFER FOR SALE,

The Farm on which he resided.

On the Ohio River, in Holliday's Cove, in Brook County, Virginia.

This Estate consists of about 700 Acres of Land, 50 of which is a rich Island, the remainder principally second bottom and upland; that part of the upland which is not tillable, is covered with timber suitable for furnishing the Island and tillable part with fencing and building timber. There is between 150 and 200 acres cleared and under cultivation, a suitable proportion of which in good meadow land. The buildings consist in two log dwelling houses and a log barn with under story of stone. It is well supplied with very fise springs of good water.

The situation of this property on the Ohio River, five miles from the flourishing Town of Steubenville, and in the neighbourhood of several Merchant Mills, Iron Works, &c. renders it a desirable object to a person who would wish to farm extensively, as he would probably at all times find a good market at his door for the produce of his farm. A part of the purchase will be required in hand, and for the remainder a reasonable credit will be given.
